

Configuration Analyst (IT Application Developer III)

Denver Water is recruiting a Configuration Analyst (Application Developer III) to gather and analyze business requirements, research vendor software capabilities, recommend Customer Information System (CIS) solutions, facilitate the implementation of a new CIS system and provide production support for existing business applications. The configuration analyst will be a member of the New CIS team and be responsible for revising and enhancing requirement artifacts, data scrubbing, configuration of the new CIS system, testing of software programs written (unit testing), and compilation of input for Quality Assurance Testing. Must communicate effectively both orally and in writing is required. Excellent research and problem solving skills are also required.

Under direction, responsible for participating in the maintenance, enhancement and production support of business software applications.

Position requirements include graduation from a four-year college or university with a degree in computer science or a related field.

Configuration Analyst (Application Developer III) requires a minimum of five years experience with 2 years experience in software development. A strong knowledge of RDBMSs and experience using SQL. Experience with contemporary application programming and other languages, functional knowledge of CIS with an understanding of CIS data models and fundamental understanding of quality software development concepts. A fundamental understanding of quality software development concepts with experience in delivering software solutions and supporting business applications. Must have strong problems solving and analytical skills, ability to collaborate closely with end users and IT staff.

Candidates MUST submit a completed Denver Water application in order to be considered. Resumes are not accepted in lieu of an application.

Salary range is $4499 to $5747 per month DOQ.

All employment offers are contingent on the successful completion of a post-offer physical, which includes drug testing as well as background and reference checks. Applications will be accepted until a sufficient number are received. Please apply online at www.denverwater.org or in person at:

DENVER WATER
Career Enrichment Center
1600 West 12th Avenue
Denver, CO 80204-3412
303.628.6066
www.denverwater.org
EOE-M/F

